

Do you see Patients with Dementia or their Caregivers in your practice?

The University of Washington School of Nursing is conducting a study to investigate a new educational program to integrate an proven intervention for patients with dementia and their caregivers into primary care.

Please help us advance evidence based interventions for people with dementia into primary care and other outpatient settings by participating!

Participants will earn 5 hours continuing education credit awarded by UWCNE for participation and completion of the program activities. Refreshments will be provided.

This program is offered on 2 dates:

May 29, 2:30-7:30 or July 17, 8:30-1:30

To learn more about this educational opportunity, please contact Amy Cunningham at 206-616-5550 or by email amoore@uw.edu